Narrow Escape.

ROCHESTER, June 1, 1882. "Ten years ago I was attacked with the most intense and deadly pains in my back and kidneys."

"Extending to the end of my toes and my brain!"

"Which made me delirious!"

"From agony!"

"It took three men to hold me on my bed at times!"

"The doctors tried in vain to relieve me, but to no purpose."

"Morphine and other opiates!"

"Had no effect!"

"After two months I was given up to die!"

When my wife heard a neighbor tell what Hop Bitters had done for her, she at once got and gave me some. The first dose eased my brain and seemed to go hunting through my system for the pain.

The second dose eased me so much that I slept two hours, something I had not done for two months. Before I had used five bottles, I was well and at work as hard as any man could, for over three weeks; but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was taken with the most acute and painful rheumatism all through my system that ever was known.

"I called the doctors again, and after several weeks they left me a cripple on crutches, for life, as they said. I met a friend and told him my case, and he said Hop Bitters had cured him and would me. I looked at him, but he was so earnest I was induced to use them again."

In less than four weeks I threw away my crutches and went to work lightly and kept on using the Bitters for five weeks, until I became as well as any man living and have been so for six years since.

It has also cured my wife, who had been sick for years; and has kept her and my children well and healthy with from two to three bottles per year. There is no need to besic at all of these Bitters are used.

J. J. BERK, Ex-supervisor.

"That poor invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter!"

"Can be made the picture of health!"

"With a few bottles of Hop Bitters!"

"Will you let them suffer!"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—At the white house to-day it is declared that the letter printed by a number of papers this morning upon the New York state election, purporting to have been written by the president to a friend in Buffalo, is a forgery. THE WABASH Discussed by the National Labor Knights.

HAMILTON, Ont. Oct. 6.—At the Knights of Labor general assembly yesterday the delegates from the western states discussed the Wabash road difficulties, but no action was decided upon.

A STRIKE ORDERED. St. Louis, Oct. 6.—At the meeting of the executive committee of the Knights of Labor this afternoon it was decided to order a general strike of street car men to begin at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Promptly at the appointed time the men on the Washington avenue line turned in and at this writing the strike seems to be taking shape.

A BOLD JOB. Occupants of a Pennsylvania Railroad Train Robbed.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 6.—As the regular train from Hollidaysburg was nearing Allegheny furnace this morning, four men took possession of one of the crowded cars, and while three intimidated the passengers with revolvers the fourth went through the car and deliberately robbed such of its occupants as he chose to select. One of the passengers made a show of resistance, but was attacked with a knife and cut through the hand. The conductor next grappled with one of the robbers and was dragged out to the platform and beaten with a revolver handle. The robbers then pulled the bell rope and jumped off, escaping to the woods. The Pennsylvania railway company has sent out officers in all directions.

700 Glass Blowers on a Strike. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—About 700 glass blowers are now on a strike here because a new scale of wages, averaging about $1.50 per week higher than has been paid, has been refused. The firms affected by the strike are Gillender &

Son, Rohrbecker & Homan and Gill & Murray.

They Are Right.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Rev. Father Cronin and James Mooney, of this city, who are among those named by the meeting last night in New York city to proceed to Ireland to assist in the parliamentary canvass, decline to go, saying Ireland needs money not orators.

A Snow Storm. PIERRE, Dak., Oct. 6.—A heavy snow storm prevailed yesterday. Reports from the north indicate a cold wave and a heavy snow fall.

Committed Suicide.

SHEENANDOE, Iowa, Oct. 6.—C. D. Lester, a stock dealer, committed suicide yesterday at Burlington Junction Springs. He was a well known man and an old friend of President Cleveland, having been deputy sheriff of Erie county, New York, when Cleveland was sheriff. No cause is assigned for the deed.

Pittsburg News.

The nail mill of Kimberly & Co., at Sharon, Pa., has resumed operations at last year's wages, giving employment to several hundred persons. The striking nailers here regard its break as an entering wedge to complete victory.

A Maniac's Murder.

ALLEGAN, Mich., Oct. 6.—John Chamberlin, of Hopkins township, who is crazy, last Saturday took eight-months old child and drowned it in Rabbit river. Fire Record for September.

New York, October 5.—The New York Daily Commercial Bulletin of the 6th, estimates the fire loss for September at $5,525,000, which is less by $3,700,000 than in September, 1884, and some $300,000 less than the average of September fire waste of the past ten years. The Bulletin gives a list from its own files of 165 fires where the reported loss was $10,000 and upwards. But there were only seven fires of $100,000 or more during the month, and only one which exceeded $200,000. The fewness of large fires is considered the cause of so favorable and hopeful a gain.

Bicycle Race.

Boston, October 5.—The start on the 100-mile road race of the Boston bicycle club, was made this morning, by five riders, whose time, on completion of 50 miles, was as follows: George Weber, New Jersey, 3 hours, 10 minutes, 30 seconds; E. The race was won by George Weber in 6 hours and 57 minutes, beating the world's record by 14 minutes, and the best American record, by one hour and 29 minutes. Rapidly Approaching the End of Life.

New York, Oct. 6.—A bulletin issued to-day by the clergy in charge says: "His eminence, the cardinal, has had for over two days a change in his condition which renders him very weak and apparently in great danger of death, so much so that it was considered prudent to administer to him the last sacrament." The cardinal's physician, Dr. E. L. Keys, was seen to-day. He said, "I cannot hold out any hope of his rallying. His disease has no name being more a gradual failing of his powers from extreme old age than anything else."

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The Republique Francaise in an editorial to-day on the results of the elections on Sunday last says: "Over one third of the members of the chamber of deputies are conservatives. This is a serious evil." It then implores republicans to unite in contested districts and save the republic.

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—The Freemans Journal supports Mr. Parnell's demand that the Irish people be permitted to raise their own revenue and protect their industries.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—A Times Paris correspondent says owing to the number of cabinet ministers defeated at the election on Sunday last for seats in the chamber of deputies, it will be necessary for the cabinet to be remodeled or resign from office before the chambers meet.

LONDON, October 5.—It is stated in official circles to-day that there is no truth in the report published by the Novol Vremya of St. Petersburg, to the effect that the English had taken entire possession of Herat and ordered the inhabitants to quit the town. The only basis for such a statement is the fact that a number of English officers in compliance with the request of Amerer are assisting the Afghans to the strengthen defenses of Herat.

PARIS, October 5.—Midnight.—In 81 departments, 165 Conservatives and 141 Republicans have been elected. The conservatives have gained 93 seats and lost 5.

Editor Meyer in attempting to leave the office was roughly handled by the crowd and rescued by the Gaulais staff, who made a sortie. The police finally dispersed the mob.

St. PETERSBURG.—Continued raids by Turkish Marines led by Turkish officers into Transcaucasia have caused Russia's newspapers to advocate sending a large force off oaks into Turkish territory to prevent such incursions. The government of Erzurum is demoralized and powerless to prevent these raids.

They Have a Clue.

By Telegraph to the Sentinel.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—Since the details of the strange confession of John M. Wilson in Chicago, yesterday, have been published, a clue has been found which may lead to the clearing up of the mystery. This afternoon a constable came into the city from Jenkintown, Pennsylvania and stated that for several years a man named Anthony Daly resided on a farm in Montgomery county near Ivy-hill cemetery. The farm belonged to his mother's estate and he worked it on the shares. In January of 1884, Daly gave employment to a man who went by the name of Sailor Jack and he and Daly were seen much in each other's company. About the middle of the following month, Daly's wife was taken ill and she was removed to her mother's home in the vicinity. During her absence Daly disappeared and was never seen again. A few days afterward Sailor Jack sold two horses and a cow from the farm, giving as a reason for his action, that he had met Daly in Philadelphia and had been directed to do so. This was followed a few days later by the destruction of the farm house by fire and the disappearance of Sailor Jack. Chief of police Keller this afternoon forwarded a dispatch to police superintendent Doyle, of Chicago, directing him to hold the prisoner and that the officials of Montgomery county would communicate with him. District Attorney Bickel, of Montgomery county, will send an officer to bring the prisoner on for trial.

A Peculiar Perplexity.

New York, October 5.—A Washington special to the Post says: "A new complication has arisen in connection with the Chinese question. It appears the British government refuses to permit its possessions to be made a dumping ground for the rejected Chinese of the United States, except upon the payment of a fee, which it is quite impossible for the United States to pay, and which, perhaps, is an exorbitant measure of the worthlessness of the Chinese. This discovery has been made by one of the custom officers on the northwestern boundary. He reports to the department that while strenuously endeavoring to carry out the instructions of the famous Chinese circular and put back upon British soil the Chinese who had come into the United States, in violation of the provisions of the restriction act, he was met with a Canadian statute, which required the payment to the treasury of the Canadian government of $50 for each Chinaman, as a condition precedent to readmission to British soil. The officer suggests to the treasury department that he has no money at his disposal to pay for such readmission and he asks the treasury department what he is to do about it. The situation is a novel one and raises an international question of peculiar perplexity."

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—The Dominion commissioners appointed to settle the half breed claims in the northwest, have finished their labors. The total claims adjusted amount to $200,000.

Indiana Constitutional Convention Survivors.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 5.—Pursuant to the plan that the Hon. W. H. English has been maturing for the past eight years, a reunion was held to-day of the survivors of the Indiana Constitutional Convention of 1850. The body consisted of 150 members. Of these thirty-three are yet alive, and nineteen answered to the roll call. Prominent among these were Vice-president Hendricks, Hon. W. H. English, secretary of the convention; Hon. W. S. Holman, General George Whitfield Carr, president of the convention; George William McKee Dunn, of Washington, Judge Horace P. Biddle, formerly of the supreme court. There was a public meeting to-night, which was largely attended. Among the speakers were Vice-president Hendricks, Hon. W. H. English, G. W. McKee Dunn and Colonel Richard Smith.

DRIVEN TO DESPERATION.

A Murderer at Last Confesses His Horrible Crime.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The strange and wild story of John M. Wilson, who staggered into the Twelfth street station last Saturday night proclaiming himself a murderer, is true. A dispatch received last night from Philadelphia says he is wanted for the murder of Anthony Daly, who disappeared mysteriously about the middle of February, 1884, from his farm in Montgomery, near Ivy Hill cemetery. In his drunken talk Wilson told of the horrible manner in which he killed Anthony Daly, a farmer of Ivy Hill, Pa., in February, 1884, by cutting him to pieces and throwing the body into the river. When sufficiently sobered to realize the terrible deed he had committed, he fled the country, arriving in Chicago after almost two years of wanderings. Since he came here he has worked for a milkman on Wentworth avenue. About two weeks ago he met a child greatly resembling that of the murdered man. At the sight of the little one, the old feeling of remorse returned, he says, and drove him into a frenzy. Since then he has known no peace of mind and on Saturday night he got drunk and hired a boy to take him to the police station where he made his startling confession. As to his punishment he appears careless. He says he would rather not be hanged but seems to think that will be his fate.

A Woman to Hang.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Druse, who murdered her husband with the aid of her son, daughter and nephew in Warren, Herkimer county, last December and cut up and burned the remains, was to-day sentenced by Judge Williams to be executed on Wednesday, November 5. No woman has been executed in these parts for forty years.

"BITTEN BY A DOG."

This is the subject of a treatise by Henry Irving, the actor, who claims to be thoroughly informed on the subject. It is unpleasant to be bitten by a dog, especially if the animal is a large and savage one. But it is not half as bad as to be racked with the pains of dyspepsia or tormented with rheumatism. When a dog bites you you don't know what to do. But when you have dyspepsia or rheumatism, you know that Brown's Iron Bitters will cure you. Nathan M. Smith, Long Branch, N. J., writes: "Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of dyspepsia. It is an excellent remedy."

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

TUESDAY, OCT. 6, 1885.

THE democratic party in Allen county is in splendid shape and stronger than it ever was.

THE Miami Democratic club has strongly endorsed Col. C. A. Zollinger for pension agent of Indiana. The appointment will be made this week and without doubt Col. Zollinger will be selected.

THE democratic party has a clearly defined policy on all the great public questions and the courage to uphold them. A few people would have us believe the contrary, in the face of formidable proof, in order to gain some questionable notoriety.

CONGRESSMAN CAMPBELL, of Ohio, estimates the vote of that state as follows: Hawley, 340,000; Foraker, 331,000; Leonard, 30,000. He adds, however, that his estimate is conjectural and liable to revision as the election approaches, but is probably not far from the truth.

WOULD it not be a good plan for the ministers of our city to follow up the Y. M. C. A. convention by a series of meetings in their respective churches. Judging from the interest manifested at the two meetings in the Princess sink, we would think that now is the time to open the doors of the churches and invite the young and old to come to Christ.

A Pleasant Birthday Party Out There.

Last Wednesday occurred one of the largest and most enjoyable events that has ever been witnessed in this neighborhood. As Mr. and Mrs. E. Hardesty were busily engaged at work on their farm, when upon returning home for dinner, they were utterly surprised to find their house filled with their many friends and relatives, who had gathered to celebrate the anniversary of Mrs. Hardesty's birth. As soon as the lady had recovered from her astonishment the company proceeded to test the merits of the elegant dinner which was prepared by her mother, Mrs. Rose. After dinner the lady was the recipient of these presents: Ornamental parlor lamp, by her mother, Mrs. Rose; a gold chain by her husband, Mr. E. Hardesty; a gold cross, Gilbert Hardesty; silk handkerchief, J. Hardesty; pillow stanzas, by Mrs. G. Trease; fruit dish, Minna Holloper; one pair of towels, Mrs. M. Grubaugh; bread plate, Mrs. Cotton; silk handkerchief, H. Spitzer; cake plate, Mrs. Bishop; bed spread, by Mr. and Mrs. D. Notestine; Tennis poems by Mr. and Mrs. Dole; pickle dish, Mrs. H. Distler; pocket handkerchief, by Z. Dole; fruit dish and lace collar, by Mr. and Mrs. W. Spitzer; one pair of towels, by Mr. and Mrs. Slack; preserve dish, Mrs. P. Distler; a dress, Mrs. H. Spitzer; Cake stand, Mamie Grubaugh; spoon holder and cake stand, by Mr. and Mrs. A. Horatius at the bridge, is one of the heroic figures of ancient Roman history. Horatio Oellers is a hero of later times, but he tells a tale that stamps him as a man of devotion. The daughter of a widowed neighbor was stricken with cholera morbus late one night. There was no doctor near, as the persons lived on a country road three miles from the town of Vincennes, Ind. The night was dark and stormy, and there was no means of conveyance to the city. Nevertheless Mr. Oellers volunteered his services. He trudged the six miles through the rain and mud, procured a bottle of Mishler's Herb Bitters, and the young woman's life was saved.

GOSPEL TRUTHS.

Extracts From Rev. Dr. Moffat's Sabbath Sermon.

The congregation of the First Presbyterian church worshiped Sunday morning for the first time in their new lecture room. The following is an abstract of the sermon by the pastor, Rev. David W. Moffat, D. D.

"And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us; and establish the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish upon us."—Ps. 91:1.

Having congratulated the congregation upon the privileges of meeting together again for public worship under a roof of their own and speaking of the period which had elapsed since the old church was destroyed by the fire of December 16, 1882, he said, "This congregation ought never and can never forget the signal kindness of their Hebrew fellow citizens, who with such hearty good will granted the use of their beautiful and convenient house of worship, where, from Sabbath to Sabbath, you have been accustomed to assemble during the last twenty-nine months. The riches of the kindness which granted this favor was revealed by the unexpected demands which were made upon it. Though you tarried there much longer than either you or they had anticipated, yet there seemed to be no such thing, as exhausting the treasures of their generous hospitality. This notable act of theirs, so thoroughly tested and so worthy the descendants of Abraham, is now for all time an essential part of the history of this church, and will be told to their honor long after the generation which enjoyed its benefits shall have passed away." Then after speaking of the wonderful history of the Israelitish people, and of what Christians owed to them, turning to the text he said: These rooms where we meet are designed for the uses of the Sabbath school, the prayer meeting, and all those special meetings which so intimately concern the spiritual life, welfare and interests of the church. You have made them beautiful—you are making the whole house beautiful. God loves beautiful things and has made us to love them. This world would have been a dreary abode for us had he not had regard for beauty as well as for utility. The countless forms of beauty in nature from the pansy beneath your feet to the gorgeous array of clouds and the blue depths beyond are the outward expression of ideas of beauty which exist in his eternal mind. The mansions above which Christ has gone to prepare for us are beautiful. And what are man's beautiful creations, but attempts to copy the works of the Supreme Artist who has breathed into the ideas which He has breathed into the human mind.

But there is a beauty which excels the material as mind excels dead matter, without the possession of which a church with all that human genius could devise and wealth command of material adornments in buildings and furnishings would be only as a decaying corpse concealed beneath decaying flowers. The glory of the church of God, first, last and evermore must be moral and spiritual, the beauty of holiness. And this is the beauty of the Lord and God. To know what it is we need not strain our eyes to gaze upon the light which no man can approach unto. It is revealed to us in the law of God and most gloriously in and through the humanity of the Son of God. The moral and spiritual excellencies which shine from Him who is "the image of the invisible God" constitute the beauty of the Lord our God. It includes all the social virtues of justice, truthfulness, kindness, benevolence, in mind and heart and deed in all the relations of life. But it includes far more. It comprehends essentially, love to God and an interest in man as God's creature who is to live beyond the grave and for whom Christ died, a love to the church and its ordinances, a spirit of devotion and devotedness which leads to prayer and praise and to a life of consecration to the service of Him who loved us and gave himself for us. In Christian character all these graces, moral and spiritual, are to be blended in symmetrical unity. It ought to be no awkward matter to turn from honest business to prayer or from prayer to honest business.

But Christian holiness is no mechanical copying of Christ. It is a living reproduction of Christ. As it was the spirit within him that made him what he was, so it is only the same spirit, imparted to us and received by faith, that will enable us to love and to reflect in our lives, the beauty of the Lord our God. And in this we have a work to do. If you seek not to have the spirit you will not have the spirit. And having him, if you work not for the attainment of those ends for which he is given he will leave you. Tents unused are hopelessly lost. But if through the spirit you do work for those ends, then will God establish the work of your hands upon you. Aiming to live lives of Christian holiness and coming hither to public worship on the Sabbath to the prayer meeting and the Sabbath school earnestly desiring for yourselves, for your children, and for all who shall meet with you, the manifestations of God's redeeming power and love, praying for it and working for it, then will this glorious life-giving Presence be manifested here and this will be a hallowed place indeed, none other than the house of God and the very gate of heaven.

1st. In this consists the life of the church. If the Spirit should depart various expedients might for a time keep up a show of life, but it would be nothing more than an empty show, not with the keeping up. As the life of the vines is the life of its branches so is the life of Christ the life of the Christian church and its members.

2d. Without this no real good can be accomplished. You can educate, you can incite to good morals, you can initiate various reforms but without Christ your work will come to nothing. "Without one," says Christ, "ye can do nothing," of real good, absolutely nothing. What a bitter mockery will it appear at last that people talked of a church doing good when it stopped short in thought effort and attainment of the salvation of Christ, the beauty of the Lord God, and eternal life.

3d. It is this that makes the Christian religion interesting, and without it religion is insipid and tasteless. There is nothing more interesting in all the wide range of human experience than the Christian religion when God's Spirit shines upon us, dwells within us and warms our hearts with love and fills them with the peace and joy of heaven. Then no external stimulants are needed, for the soul drawn by the intrinsic interest of the life itself moves freely and gladly to prayer and praise, every Christian duty.

4th. And this is what makes religion and the church and its services interesting to others. When the fire burns so low that Christians themselves cease to feel its heat, no wonder that outsiders become indifferent. But when the fire glows and the Christian people are in earnest, full of the Spirit and aflame with love and zeal, and one and another is rejoicing in Christ as a newly found Saviour, then there is no difficulty in drawing others to the church. Church people are continually asking. How shall we draw the young people? How shall we draw in those who do not go to church? The answer is, Be interested yourselves. There are subordinate things which it is right enough to regard, but after all, the most powerful attraction of a church is the manifested presence of the Spirit of God. No expedient you can invent is so alluring as this. It is this that unites a church in the most sacred and endearing bonds, that makes it beautiful strong and useful, delightful to God and influential with men. Sweet and hallowed is the place where the soul meets with its God and Redeemer, and sweet and hallowed will this place become to you if you come hither with this intent. Sweet and hallowed will it become to those whom God shall here lead out of darkness into his marvelous light. Thrice sweet and hallowed will it become to you if among those ransomed ones shall be loved ones and children of yours. And most sweet and hallowed will it become to those of you who may be the instruments under God of bringing some in this place to him who has said "It is more blessed to give than to receive." What we need above all things is that God should hallow this place by putting upon each one of you his own beauty and establishing your work, by shedding abroad his love in your heart by the Holy Spirit given unto you. This will cause your church to shine in the imperishable beauty of God, and souls unnumbered shall rejoice forever in that they were born here and led onward in the shining way to glory here.

Eczema!

For the benefit of suffering humanity, and in heartfelt gratitude to the wonderful result, I deem it only my duty to give this unsolicited testimony in favor of Swift's Specific. My wife has been afflicted with hereditary Eczema or Salt Rheum from her infancy. It has increased in intensity with each succeeding spring, and being somewhat skilled in medicine myself, I tried every remedy I could think of for years. Sarsaparilla combined with every form of Potassium, and hundreds of other remedies, lotions and alkali washes of every known kind, but they all gave only temporary relief. During the spring of 1884 her Eczema became so inflamed and sore that she was obliged to keep them constantly coated with a cover of Fuller's Earth, mixed wet and allowed to dry on. Among other things, she was afflicted with a periodical nervous headache, occurring regularly every seven days, sometimes followed by an intermittent fever for weeks at a time, so that her life became a burden to her.

This spring I determined she should take S. S. and follow strictly the directions in regard to dose, diet, etc. This was about seven weeks ago. After taking the first large bottle the disease seemed to increase; the burning, itching and inflammation became unbearable. She, however, persevered in the use of the medicine. After taking the second bottle the inflammation began to subside. After the third bottle the inflammation disappeared and sore spots dried up and turned white and scaly, and finally she brushed them off in an inappreciable white powder resembling pure salt. She is now taking the sixth bottle, three tablespoonful four times daily. Every appearance of the disease has gone, and her flesh is becoming soft, white and smooth again; and what is more, her periodical headaches have disappeared and she is now, after years of age, enjoying the only good health she has known for upwards of 40 years. No wonder she declares with emphasis that every bottle of S. S. is worth a thousand times its weight in gold.

Any further information concerning her case will be cheerfully given by herself at her residence, 135 Mullett street, or by me, JOHN F. BRADLEY, 14 Griswold St., Detroit, Mich., May 16, 1885.

The simples in the laboratory of nature are health giving. What can be more reviving than the odor of the pine forests? And when it is remembered that St. Jacob's Oil has in it the essential elements which give this life and strength, it can well be understood what a boon it is to be afflicted.

On Oct. 5, 1885, at 11:15 a. m., Calvin Maft, after a long and useful life of eighty-three and a half years, died of shere old age, at the residence of his daughter Mrs. Pierson, 153 Hanna street. The remains will be taken to Pawpaw, Mich., for interment. Funeral services will be held at the U. B. church, on East Lewis street, to-morrow, Oct. 7, at 10 o'clock a. m. Friends are invited without further notice.

Circulars have been issued by the Pennsylvania company giving notice of the several official changes mentioned in THE SENTINEL several weeks ago to take effect Oct. 10, as follows: James McCrea to be general manager, headquarters Pittsburg; John F. Miller general superintendent, headquarters Columbus. J. J. Turner succeeds Mr. Miller on the C. St. L. & P., and M. W. Mansfield succeeds Mr. Turner on the I & D.

Coroner's Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that on Sunday evening, October 4, 1885, at a fire which took place on the fair grounds near the city of Fort Wayne, Indiana, burned to death a man, supposed to be a tramp, supposed to be about thirty years old, five feet nine inches tall and supposed to weigh about one hundred and fifty pounds.

JAMES M. DINNEN,
Coroner of Allen county.

Tired, Languid, Dull. Exactly expresses the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressive effects of warm weather and the weak condition of the body can only be corrected by the use of a reliable tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a remedy is so close at hand? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will give you untold wealth in health, strength and energy.

A SERIOUS MISHAP.

Mrs. Peter Morgenthaler Injured in a Runaway Accident.

This morning Mrs. Peter Morgenthaler, wife of the well known clothier, was arranging lap robes in her carriage which stood in front of their home, on West Wayne street. The lady was standing between the wheels, when like a flash a runaway horse, pulling the front wheels of a buck-board, struck her buggy and in the collision and double runaway that followed she was bruised, cut and dragged in a manner to make her insensible for about half an hour. The lady is very badly injured, and her face is awfully cut and bruised. It is hoped her injuries will not prove serious or permanent, but at this writing predictions only can be made.

"Nitouche."

Lotta appeared in this catchy French vaudeville at the Temple last night. The audience was the largest and most fashionable of the season, and the little lady skipped into favor at once. She has lost none of her sprightliness or charming manner, and in the Japanese song was bewitching. She has a handsome support, and it cannot be doubted that Mr. J. A. Stuart divides the honors with Lotta. His bass solo, or rather the wine song, was an artistic piece of work and merited two encores. Mme. Lotta is a decided favorite here.

"THE DANITES."

The Tavenier company presented this play to a pretty fair house at the Academy last night. The company gave an excellent performance and much meritorious acting was done. To-night the party give "A Rash Marriage," with Miss Ida VanCortland in the leading role. The company play at the Academy all week and at popular prices ten, twenty and thirty cents, will do great business.

THE IVY LEAF.

Thursday and Friday evenings the Ivy Leaf will be presented at the Temple with all the advantages of fine scientific effects. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch is thus enthusiastic: "One would think that the field covered by the old-fashioned Irish play had been pretty well gleaned and the public would tire of it. It has been a prolific and profitable field and its wealth seems to be inexhaustible. There is so much that is attractive and wit, humor, tender, romance and tearful pathos can be so charmingly blended in a representation or Irish life and character that the result appeals powerfully to the sympathies of mankind. There is no character in novel or drama which is so full of charm and strikes more surely and strongly the sympathetic chords of the human heart than the lazy, good natured, quick-witted Irish lad, with the courage of a lion and an honest, tender heart in his bosom. The elements of a hero are here which command worship from the people. He is essentially the people's hero, and it is from them that he draws the largest tribute of tears and laughter."

ROCHESTER, June 1, 1885. "Ten years ago I was attacked with the most intense and deadly pain in my back and kidneys."

"Extending to the end of my toes and my brain!"
"Which made me delirious!"
"From agony!"

"The doctors tried in vain to relieve me, but to no purpose."
"Morphine and other opiates!"
"Had no effect!"
"After two months I was given up to die!"

"When my wife heard a neighbor tell what Hop Bitters had done for her, she at once got and gave me some. The first dose eased my brain and seemed to go hunting through my system for the pain."

"The second dose eased me so much that I slept two hours, something I had not done for two months. Before I had used five bottles, I was well and at work as hard as any man could, for over three weeks; but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was taken with the most acute and painful rheumatism all through my system that ever was known."

"I called the doctors again, and after several weeks they left me a cripple on crutches, for life, as they said. I met a friend and told him my case, and he said Hop Bitters had cured him and would cure me. I asked at him, but he was so earnest I was induced to use them again."

"In less than four weeks I threw away my crutches and went to work lightly and kept on using the Bitters for five weeks, until I became as well as any man living and have been so for six years since."

"I have also cured my wife, who had been sick for years, and has kept her and my children well and healthy with from two to three bottles per year. There is no need to be sick at all if these Bitters are used."

J. J. Bland, Ex-supervisor.

"That poor invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter!"
"Can be made the picture of health!"
"With a few bottles of Hop Bitters!"
"Will you let them suffer?"

Present the following to your friends:
"If you call for Hop Bitters the druggist hands out anything but Hop Bitters, show them this card. If you don't show it, they will give you a cheap imitation, and if he has taken your money for a cheap stuff, let him know for the fraud and sue him for damages for the trouble and we will reward you liberally for the conviction."

Fire Record for September.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, October 5.—The New York Daily Commercial Bulletin of the 6th, estimates the fire loss of the United States and Canada for September at $5,255,000, which is less by $1,700,000 than in September, 1884, and some $300,000 less than the average of September fire waste of the past ten years. The Bulletin gives a list from its own files of 165 fires where the reported loss was $10,000 and upwards. But there were only seven fires of $100,000 or more during the month, and only one which exceeded $200,000. The fewness of large fires is considered the cause of so favorable and hopeful a gain.

They Have a Clue.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—Since the details of the strange confession of John M. Wilson in Chicago, yesterday, have been published, a clue has been found which may lead to the clearing up of the mystery. This afternoon a constable came into the city from Jenkintown, Pennsylvania and stated that for several years a man named Anthony Daly resided on a farm in Montgomery county near Ivy Hill cemetery. The farm belonged to his mother's estate and he worked it on the shares. In January of 1881, Daly gave employment to a man who went by the name of Sailor Jack, and he and Daly were seen much in each other's company. About the middle of the following month, Daly's wife was taken ill and she was removed to her mother's house in the vicinity. During her absence Daly disappeared and was never seen again. A few days afterward Sailor Jack sold two horses and a cow from the farm, giving as a reason for his action, that he had met Daly in Philadelphia and had been directed to do so. This was followed a few days later by the destruction of the farm house by fire and the disappearance of Sailor Jack. Chief of police Keller this afternoon forwarded a dispatch to police superintendent Doyle, of Chicago, directing him to hold the prisoner and that the officials of Montgomery county would communicate with him. District Attorney Bickel, of Montgomery county, will send an officer to bring the prisoner on for trial.

A Peculiar Perplexity.

Mrs. Peter Morganthaler Injured in a Runaway Accident.

This morning Mrs. Peter Morganthaler, wife of the well known clothier, was arranging her robes in her carriage which stood in front of their home, on West Wayne street. The lady was standing between the wheels, when like a flash a runaway horse, pulling the front wheels of a buck-board, struck her buggy and in the collision and double runaway that followed she was bruised, cut and dragged in a manner to make her unusable for about half an hour. The lady is very badly injured, and her face is awfully cut and bruised. It is hoped her injuries will not prove serious or permanent, but at this writing predictions only can be made.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Nittouche."

Lotta appeared in this catchy French vaudeville at the Temple last night. The audience was the largest and most fashionable of the season, and the little lady skipped into favor at once. She has lost none of her sprightliness or charming manner, and in the Japanese song was bewitching. She has a handsome support, and it cannot be doubted that Mr. J. A. Stuart divides the honors with Lotta. His bass solo, or rather the wine song, was an artistic piece of work and merited two encores. Miss Lotta is a decided favorite here.

"THE DANITES."

The Tavenier company presented this play to a pretty fair house at the Academy last night. The company gave an excellent performance and much meritorious acting was done. To-night the party give "A Rush Marriage," with Miss Ida VanCortland in the leading role. The company play at the Academy all week and at popular prices ten, twenty and thirty cents, will do great business.

THE IVY LEAF.

Thursday and Friday evenings the Ivy Leaf will be presented at the Temple with all the advantages of fine scientific effects. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch is thus enthusiastic: "One would think that the field covered by the old-fashioned Irish play had been pretty well gleaned and the public would tire of it. It has been a prolific and profitable field and its wealth seems to be inexhaustible. There is so much that is attractive and wit, humor, tender, romance and tearful pathos can be so charmingly blended in a representation of Irish life and character that the result appeals powerfully to the sympathies of mankind. There is a character in novel or drama which is so full of charm and strikes more surely and strongly the sympathetic chords of the human heart than the lazy, good natured, quick-witted Irish lad, with the courage of a lion and an honest, tender heart in his bosom. The elements of a hero are here which command worship from the people. He is essentially the people's hero, and it is from them that he draws the largest tribute of tears and laughter."
